SEARCH HOTELS, HOPING TO FIND MISSING YOUTH

Police of Indianapolis Work on Theory Ellis Is Slaver.

FAMILY HERE IS SURE HE IS NOT

Attempt at Suicide of Supposed Wife Convinces Them of Mistake-Say He Was With Them at Time He Is Supposed to Have Married the Girl.

Indianapolis, Ind., September 24 .-Working on a theory that Joseph Ellis, of Richmond, who they say murdered Joseph Schlansky, a merchant here Monday, still is in Indianapolis, the entire police force to-night is searching rooming houses and hotels, hoping to find some trace of the man.

Audra Baker Anderson, who believes Roy Anderson, whom she married last July, is Ellis, says that she met the man here and at that time was told he was a chauffeur. This, the police say, if Anderson and Ellis are the same man, leads them to believe that the robber made his headquarters in In-dianapolis. Mrs. Anderson, who shot herself when convinced that it was her husband who had killed Schlansky, still is in a critical condition, physicians say.

Elther Ellis has an exact double, or e is not under arrest in San Francisco, as reported last night, accord-ing to the local police.

The photograph of Ellis or Brokaw, was identified positively by four persons here as the man who killed Schlansky.

Captain of Detectives Holtz was positive in his statement to-day that the slayer of Schlansky would be captured soon. The local police do not believe the man arrested in San Francisco is Ellis or Brokaw.

Operations Are Similar.
The operations of Ellis were similar in all cities he visited. Here he called at the Schlansky store, told him he had some clothing at his room in the had some clothing at his room in the hotel which he wanted to sell. Schlansky accompanied him to the room and, it is supposed, resisted the attempt to rob him and was killed. Ellis calmly left the hotel and departed from the city before the alarm was given. In other cities Ellis succeeded in robbing his victims and escaped while they were locked in his room.

NO WORD FROM SON

Jacob Ellis Still Believes That His Boy

Is Not Guilty of Murder.

"I know my son is not married, for he was with me all of last July in Los Angeles, and, therefore, he could not be the same person as the man who murdered Schlansky. I am confident my son is not guilty of the crime with which his name has been linked."

This was the statement made last the youth alleged by the Indianapolis police to be the murderer of Schlansky. It followed the news that Audra Baker Anderson tried to kill itself herself, giving as her reason that her Mrs father when he learned of this de-velopment, and both he and his two

Mrs. Ellis and her two daughters came to Richmond early this summer from Los Angeles, and about seven the father and his son followed and he entered business here. The son, according to the father, was ing his determination to make his way where he lived for some time with a married sister. He suddenly quit New York, and since that time has apparently been in the Middle West. Last week Mr. Ellis had word from his son in Louisville, Ky. A telegram was received from John T. Rogers, a newspaper man of that city, saving had cared for the youth, was anxious to come home and wanted money to pay his transportation. The father refused to send it. Young Ellis is said to have left Louisville for Indianapolis one hour after a man had been robbed in a hotel, and this fact has been added to the suspicion now lodged against him. He will be sevenyears old next mouth, according his father, and only several months ago he donned long trousers.

News Kept From Mother. Mrs. Ellis is suffering with heart trouble, and for fear that the news of the accusation against her son would seriously affect her, it has been withheld by her husband and daughters. know it would kill my wife if she heard of the charges against Joseph, even if they are false," said Mr. Ellis. The Ellis family came to this country from Russia about twenty years ago. Joseph was born in 1896 in Jersey City. Later the family moved to Portsmouth, Va., and after spending some years there went to Denver, Col. Ellis's health. Afterwards Mr. Ellis determined to go to Los Angeles, and when he thought his wife had sufficiently recovered to (Continued on Second Page.)

ALIENISTS UNDECIDED

Another Examination of Schmidt Will

Another Examination of Schmidt Will Be Made Next Week.

New York, September 24.—Hans Schmidt, slayer of Anna Aumulier, today was examined by alienists in an effort to determine his mental condition. Counsel for the prisoner claim he is insane, and in order that expert opinion on this point may be had before the case progresses further, the inquest into the Aumulier girl's death, set for next Saturday, was adjourned to October 3. By that time a decision as to Schmidts mental status will have been reached by the State's alienists.

as to Schmidts mental status will have been reached by the State's alienists.

The alienists had no comment to make after their interview with Schmidt. Whatever their decision, however, Schmidt's case will be brought before the October grand jury, it was learned at the district attorney's office to-night. His arraignment would follow the bringing of an indictment for murder, and the Supreme Court then would have to determine whether a jury finally is to pass upon the confessed murderer's mental state.

Drs. Mabon and MacDonald questioned the former priest for an hour or more. It was understood that he talked freely, as he has at every opportunity during his imprisonment, going into details about his crime. He was backward, however, in responding to questions reverting cortain phases. was backward, however, in responding to questions regarding certain phases of the case with which the alienists were particularly anxious to become acquainted and a further questioning later this week was decided upon.

Father Franz Markert, a schoolmate in Mainz, Germany, had a long talk with the confessed murderer to-day. "He hasn't changed much," said Father Markert. "He always was of a ner-vous disposition, but we attributed that to the close attention he paid to his studies.

LOOK OUT FOR BOMB

United States Steel Corporation May Turn on Its Enemies.
BY B. C. FORBES.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
New York, September 24.—I hear that a bombshell is going to be exploded soon by the United States Steel Corporation, and that the reputations of certain very prominent Washington gentlemen will be shattered.

The story has been whispered in bankers and brokers quarters for some time, and I understand it is true.

Judge Gary would not discuss it today. He has all along taken the view that as his corporation is under prosecution, his lips are scaled.

From other sources, however, it was learned very definitely that detailed information has been gathered concerning the operations of certain legislators who took a leading part in instituting the government's suit against the United States Steel.

When the time comes, in court, for the steel people to present their side, it is expected that the bombshell will be exploded.

The disclosures, it is believed, will be onlines similar to there were the exploded.

The disclosures, it is believed, will be on lines similar to those made recently in connection with the attempted blackmailing of Union Pacific interests, except that the persons implicated are of much higher standing than Lamar. Indeed, the togas of one or two statesmen much in the limelight some time ago are expected to be smirched.

SHE EXPECTS SYMPATHY

Mrn. Pankhurst Tells Object of Her Coming-Visit to America.

Parls, September 24.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the English suffragette leader to-day informed the Associated Press that she did not anticipate the slightest difficulty in entering the United States, and had received no communication whatever on the sub-which his hame has been linked. Nevertheless, I think that even American was the statement made last night by Jacob Ellis, the clothing merchant of 1816 East Main Street, father of the youth alleged by the Indianof the day. I have no reason to expect anything but a sympathetic welcome from the nation whose past history shows it to have been a great militant Mrs. Pankhurst to-day said she in-daughters, Misses Frances and Sarah Ellis, were convinced they said, that Joseph Ellis, had no hand in the crime, and that his name had been coupled with it purely through chance. However, according to dispatches received last night, the Indianapolis police hold to the theory that Anderson and Ellis are one and the same man.

It is now regarded as almost certain that Fred Brokaw, under arrest in San Francisco for the authorities of Pittsburgh, is not Ellis. It is not believed that Brokaw has any connection with the Indianapolis murder.

Here Only Two Days.

When shown a photograph of Brokaw, father and sisters unhesitatingly said it was not that of Joseph Ellis. Where the latter is, however, they have not the slightest idea.

No Candidates Out.

No formal announcements by candidates for the seat made vacant by the resignation of Eiben C. Folkes have as yet been made. Those who were considered as probable candidates last night were Major Miles M. Martin, formerly chalrman of the City Democratic Committee; James E. Cannon, a for-mer member of the City Council, and recently a candidate for the House of Delegates; General Charles J. Ander-son, a former member of the State Senate; A. Bierne Blair, a former mem-ber of the City Council, and Senate I. ber of the City Council, and Samuel L. Kelley. Mention was also made of R. Lee Peters, president of the Common Council, as a possibility, though no announcement came from Mr. Peters.

The suggestion that there might be independent candidates in the event of a nomination by the city committee without opportunity for a popular expression of preference within the party, was generally discounted.

The method of nominating is for the City Democratic Committee to determine. The committee may itself make a party selection, or it may provide for a nomination by convention, primary or otherwise, that organization having wide latitude in such emer-

The belief was generally expressed last night that the committee would nominate, the precedent being found in the action of the State Democratic Committee four years ago, D. Q. Eggleston had been re-nominated by the Democratic party for Secretary of the Commonwealth, and died less than sixty days before the general election. They were several candidates before the State Committee, which finally nominated Colonel James, whose name were many rumors current last night, one which found much credit being that the city committee was already being polled in behalf of its former chairman, Major Martin, who, it is adwould make a very strong candidate if the party nomination, which in Richmond is the equivalent of the election, is left in the hands of the committee.

A considerable vote in the committee is claimed for Mr. Cannon, who was defeated by a narrow margin in the recent primary for the House of Delegates. Some other names are mentioned only in the event that a

Will Call Special Election. Whatever party procedure is adopted, the resignation of Mr. Folkes, making necessary an election of a Senator at a time not contemplated in the statute, forces the Governor to a writ for a special election. Several days ago Governor Mann asked on the question as to whether such a special election to fill a Senate va-cancy could be held on the day of the general election.

Chairman James H. Price, of the City Democratic Committee, said yes-ferday that probably no action would be taken toward calling the committee together until the Governor termines the date of the special election. Then, Mr. Price said, it would for the committee to determine at method it would pursue in makar a party nomination prior to that what method it would pursue in making a party nomination prior to that election. If the senatorial election for Richmond is set by the Governor on dition warrant. the day of the November general election, the time, it is held, too short for a primary, and the nomination would probably of the city committee-that is the old committee still in office, the new City Democratic Committee elected last summer not taking office until Janu-

TO PROMOTE GOETHALS

President Would Raise Canal Builder to Rank of Major-General.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Washington, September 24.—Advancement to the rank of major-general will be tendered Colonel George W. Goethals, engineer in charge of the Panama Canal, in recognition of his services to the government.

Both President Wilson and Secretary of War Garrison to-day are said to believe that this promotion will be more in keeping with Colonel Goethals's achievement than advancement to the rank of chief of engineers of the army, which falls vacant on October 11 through the retirement of Brigadier-General William T. Rossell.

Colonel Goethals was strongly indorsed for this honor, but he has communicated to the President a wish to remain in the Canal Zone until his work is completed.
